Contents Volume 63, 1990

Research Papers

Late Quaternary dinoflagellate cyst biostratigraphy for sediments of the Porcupine Basin, offshore western Ireland
A. Duane (Plymouth, U.K.) and R. Harland (Nottingham, U.K.) 1
Fungal remains from the Miocene Quilon Beds of Kerala State, South India
P. Kumar (Lucknow, India) 13
Drying of pollen with Peldri II (proprietary fluorocarbon) for scanning electron microscopy
W.F. Chissoe, E.L. Vezey and J.J. Skvarla (Norman, OK, U.S.A.) 29
A long pollen record from Ahaliorak Lake, arctic Alaska
W.R. Eisner and P.A. Colinvaux (Columbus, OH, U.S.A.) 35
Pollen source area and representation in small lakes of the northeastern United States
S.T. Jackson (Providence, RI, U.S.A.) 53
Studies on a Lower Carboniferous flora from Kingswood near Pettycur, Scotland. III. Lyginorachis
B. Meyer-Berthaud (Montpellier, France) 77
A Lower Carboniferous plant assemblage from La Serre (Montagne Noire, France). Part II. Gymnosperms
N.P. Rowe (Aachen, F.R.G.) and J. Galtier (Montpellier, France) 91
Polyspermophyllum, a new Permian gymnosperm from Argentina, with considerations about the Dicranophyllales
S. Archangelsky and R. Cúneo (Buenos Aires, Argentina) 117
The ultrastructure of the exine of the megaspores in two Palaeozoic seed-like structures
A.R. Hemsley (Egham, U.K.) 137
A new stratigraphically important spore assigned to the genus Rogalskaisporites Danzé-Corsin and Laveine (1963) from the Late Triassic of the Barents Sea
K. Bakken (Stavanger, Norway) 153
Studies of Paleozoic marattialean ferns: Scolecopteris globiforma n. sp., from the Stephanian of France
M.A. Millay (Columbus, OH, U.S.A.) and J. Galtier (Montpellier, France) 163
Holocene peat initiation in the Ligurian Apennines, northern Italy
G.M. Cruise (London, U.K.) 173
Pachwarophyllum santhalensis gen. et sp. nov. from the Lower Gondwana of Bihar, India
B. Prasad and P.K. Maithy (Lucknow, India) 183
Evidence of widespread fungal attack on Upper Triassic trees in the southwestern U.S.A.
G.T. Creber (Surrey, U.K.) and S.R. Ash (Ogden, UT, U.S.A.) 189
Aspects of Permian palaeobotany and palynology. XI. On the recognition of true peltasperms in the Upper Permian of Western and Central Europe and a reclassification of species formerly included in Peltaspermum Harris
R.J. Poort and J.H.F. Kerp (Utrecht, The Netherlands) 197
An illustrated key to endoaperture morphology
G.E.B. El Ghazali (Bergen, Norway) 227
Early and middle Holocene vegetational development in Kurarp (Scania, South Sweden)
E. Kolstrup (Sønderborg, Denmark) 233
Tertiary dinoflagellate cysts from the Mit Ghamr-1 well, Nile Delta, Egypt
S.Y. El-Beialy (El Mansoura, Egypt) 259
Fossil charcoal: techniques and applications
P.M. Sander and C.T. Gee (Zürich, Switzerland) 269
Fossil pollen of Alangium from the Eocene lignite of Gujarat, India, with comments on its stratigraphic antiquity
N.R. Phadtare and B. Thakur (Dehradun, India) 281
Pollen stratigraphy of two Holocene peat sites in the Ligurian Apennines, northern Italy
G.M. Cruise (London, U.K.) 299

Erratum 315

Contents Volume 63, 1990 316